

Goodlettsville

Country Music Legends Cemetery Tour

Begin your cemetery tour at Luton's United Methodist Church Cemetery, located at 8363 Old Springfield Highway. Here lies the grave of Country Music Legend and Grand Ole Opry Star, Louis Marshall "Grandpa" Jones.

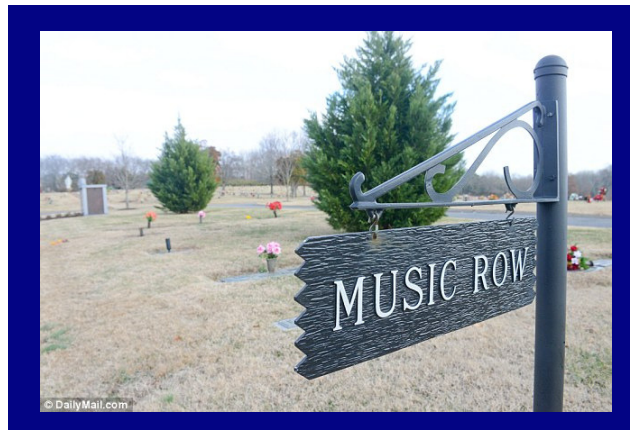

Your next stop will be at Forest Lawn Memorial Gardens located at 1150 Dickerson Pike.

Located inside Forest Lawn Memorial Gardens is a section known as Music Row. Several legendary country musicians grave sites are here.

David "Stringbean" Akeman and his wife are buried nearby. They were murdered by robbers in 1973.

Others On Music Row Include

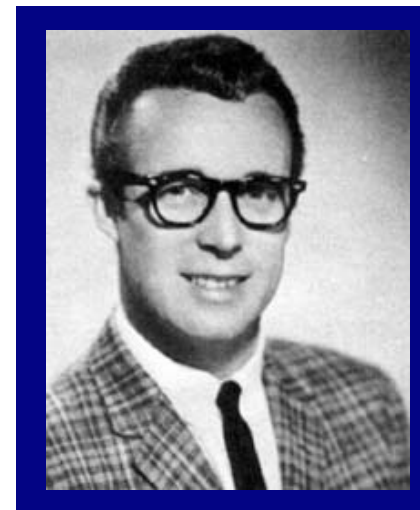

Tragically, in 1963 Patsy Cline died in a plane crash. She is buried in Virginia, however, several others who died in the crash are buried at Forest Lawn Memorial Gardens. Ramsey "Randy" Hughes was the pilot, Lloyd "Cowboy" Copas, and Hawkshaw Hawkins are all buried within a few feet of each other. Musician Jack Anglin, who died in a car crash on the way to Patsy's funeral is also buried here.

Also, nearby is Lefty Frizzell, and out among the green acreage is the grave of Beecher Kirby, known as Roy Acuff's sidekick, Brother Oswald.

Smiley and Kitty Wilson, a popular country duo from 1940's-1950's were laid to rest here as well.

The grave of Don Helms, member of the Hank Williams Drifting Cowboys Band and on country classics by Patsy Cline, is also in the Music Row area.

Map shows both cemetery locations

